

A WALK THROUGH PAIN &
SUFFERING IN LIGHT OF
THE CROSS

STRANGELY DIM

This is a dark world. There are many ways we keep that darkness at bay, but we cannot do it forever. Eventually the lights of our lives – love, health, home, work – will begin to go out. And when that happens, we will need something more than our own understanding, competence, and power can give us.

Join us as we explore one of the big questions of life: Why is there so much pain and suffering in the world? Find out what the significance of the cross means in a world that is always grappling with unexplained pain and suffering.
